SCOPE AND CUSTOMER INFORMATION

Customer supplies the route, actual loaded dimensions and weight, equipment configuration, movement date, and permit instructions. Agree scope, deliverables, and price in writing before work begins. CYA reports reasonably observable conditions, the survey date, and limitations.

LIMITATIONS - NO CLEARANCE GUARANTEE

A survey reports conditions observed at the time. Construction, utilities, resurfacing, traffic controls, weather, and other conditions can change afterward. It does not guarantee continuing clearance or safe passage and is not a permit, engineering certification, bridge/weight approval, or utility release.

CARRIER AND LOAD-DRIVER RESPONSIBILITIES

Carrier obtains and follows permits and approved routing; confirms current restrictions, loaded dimensions, bridge/weight requirements, utility/police coordination, and required escorts; and verifies safe, lawful passage when the load moves. The driver and escort team must stop when conditions are unsafe or uncertain. A prior survey is not permission to continue through an unresolved hazard.

CHANGES, CHARGES, AND ACKNOWLEDGMENT

Report changed dimensions, routing, schedule, and observed conditions promptly. A revised survey may be needed. Prices, travel, delay, cancellation, and added work apply only as agreed in the signed standalone rate confirmation or accepted written change. Each party retains its own duties and responsibility under applicable law; this sheet does not release liability that cannot lawfully be released.
